

Expedition

The first 7-summits non-stop round-the-world expedition.

The TOPtoTOP Expedition by Sabine and Dario Schwörer started 2003 and will continue through until 2007. During the expedition they will use only human power to conquer a total of 50'000 miles sailing, 15'000 kilometres cycling and a total of 230'000 altitude meters to connect global climate zones on 7 continents. Their aim during the expedition is to climb the highest mountain in each continent. A preparation tour of a 160 days has already taken place, which consisted of climbing the top mountain in each County of Switzerland. This tour proved that great goals can be achieved in harmony with nature.

Children are our future.

School visits are made by Sabine and Dario Schwörer at each destination throughout the TOPtoTOP Global Climate Expedition. «We are motivated each day by the inspiration and fasci-

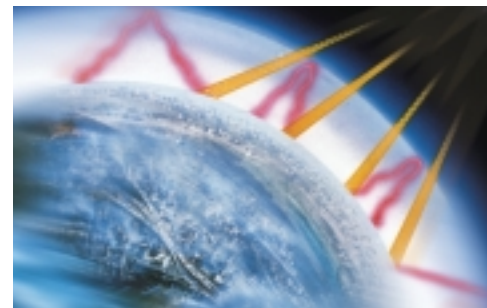

Sabine and Dario Schwörer say that the school lectures are an important part of their Expedition because the children are the future of the world.

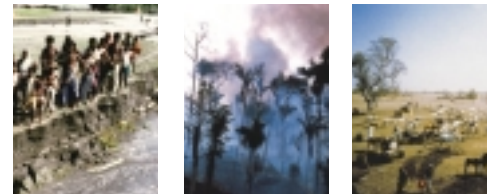

nation of the children.» With enthusiasm they teach the children the importance of nature and give them various fun projects to learn all about their world-adventure. Then they let the kids paint and describe their own visions of a better and healthier World. You will find the most interesting pictures and projects from the children in the picture gallery on the internet under www.top-totop.org where they can be virtually bought. All proceeds and donations made from the picture gallery will go towards special environmental projects.

Climate

A graphical map about the global warming – the basis for the TOPtoTOP Expedition comes from scientific basics.

The Earth needs our help.

There frequently are reports about weather catastrophes such as floods in Bangladesh, forest fires in Australia, droughts in Africa or terrible stories about the ozone layer – the world is ill. The TOPtoTOP-Club doesn't want to just lecture or make lots of paperword, it wants to remind people about our fantastic but sensitive nature.

Giving something back to nature should bring happiness and pleasure to all of us.

With us

Up and away.

Sabine and Dario Schwörer are frequently joined by interested supporters throughout their expedition.

For a small fee, either alone or in groups, they can cycle alongside or join a climbing tour or even participate in a sailing-stage on the «Pachamama». All the proceeds go towards this ambitious project.

The expedition patronated by the UNEP is grateful for all help and donations from local authorities, institutions or private people. For further information, visit our website:

www.toptotop.org

Give nature a chance - support the TOPtoTOP-Club - become a member.

In preparation of this expedition, Sabine and Dario Schwörer have already climbed the highest mountain in every County of Switzerland.

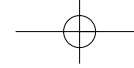

www.toptotop.org

top to top
school to school
project to project

Patronage
UNEP

Editorial

Headlines about our changing climate keep accumulating – but what can we do to stop this? «We cannot keep taking from the nature, we also have to give something back to it» say Sabine and Dario Schwörer who initiated the TOPToTOP-Club together with some like-minded friends. The goal of the TOPToTOP-Club is to complete the expedition throughout all the various climatic zones in the World using only their own physical strength (biking, climbing and sailing). As a «continuous challenge» throughout the expedition, they want to climb the highest mountain in every continent (including the Antarctic). There will be projects continually organised, created, and made together with the children, who will paint their own pictures and write essays which will be placed on a up-to-date daily report on the internet under www.toptotop.org. The unconventional World Expedition will continue through until 2007 and the core team are:

Sabine and Dario Schwörer.

Sabine and Dario Schwörer in a school lecture – with enthusiasm the children listen to the fascinating stories about climate change.

Future Aim

Activities for the environment.

Instead of complaining about the dramatic developments of the ever declining environment and doing nothing, the TOPToTOP-Club has decided to contribute towards improving the situation. With each stop throughout the expedition that Sabine, Dario Schwörer and their followers make, they will take the chance to do something worthwhile, for example, assisting, organising and helping to co-ordinate people to clean beaches or riverbeds in situations like after severe floods or violent storms – whatever you can do, do it, because every step is an important step.

Throughout the expedition, helping to save the environment is Sabine and Dario Schwörer's main target, for example, organising the cleaning of the beaches, rivers and lakes etc.

Interesting projects.

In the background, the Club Members are working hard on organising the trip. They are also co-ordinating the website with the daily news, activities and experiences. During the trip they will be searching for innovative projects to visit and highlight as part of the TOPToTOP school visits and Web-communication.

From the TOPToTOP team, the children learn about climate change and sustainability and create drawings to support aid projects endorsed by TOPToTOP.

Join the journey by the daily reports on www.toptotop.org

Interesting Reports

Whoever travels and combines sports with environmental support has something to tell. For inspiration and eventually bringing into action, they are sharing their experiences, information and most importantly any new ideas for projects with the schools and the public-eye. These are the main world-wide objectives of the TOPToTOP Global Climate Expedition. TOPToTOP is patroned by the UNEP – the World's Environmental Program of the National Union – and supports specially children in the third-world and the important tropical forests on our planet.

Media

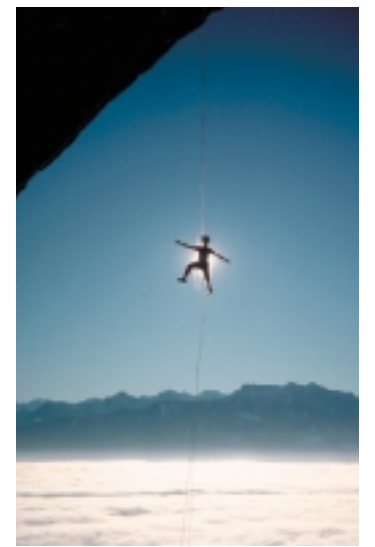

Active communication through the TOPToTOP-Club.

Active communication through the TOPToTOP-Club by professional media is very important for the Expedition in helping them to achieve a positive and productive difference in the world. Interviews with the local and national press, radios and TV stations organised by the TOPToTOP-Club-members will be made by Sabine and Dario Schwörer continuously throughout the Expedition. Sometimes there is a real media-excitement, but that is a part of the expedition. «The more people who are aware of our aim and the more media there is, the greater the chance that something will change for the better.» says Dario Schwörer.

The permanent presence of the media across the whole world is the responsibility of the TOPToTOP-Club-members.

Contact

We need your support. Visit our Website.

TOPToTOP Global Climate Expedition
www.toptotop.org
Sabine & Dario Schwörer
T +41 79 446 37 82 • info@toptotop.org

